

2 OUT OF 3 CONTRACTS FILLED OUT FOR SWITZERLAND

During the last match of the evening, the teams of Switzerland and Italy offered show and suspense to the streaming spectators. Thanks to their victory, the transalpines will face the 2nd Swiss team in semi final.

Samantha Urbina, coach of both teams, has nevertheless noted she was pleased with the outcome. «The team B has reached its target. The 1st team has somehow lacked a bit of lucidity, due to fatigue, to hope win. This team can do better than this, and avoid mistakes in the ball handling. This is the reason why I am confident for the final phase.»

Champion of Europe in title, the Women Swiss team has confirmed its quality of game, after the great victory against Taiwan. At the end of a long day and a large victory (47-28) against Italy A, Jonas Gachet does not appear to be the saddest coach: «It's an overall satisfaction and I am confident for what is to come next. The girls have defended pretty well and managed to take advantage of their opponent's mistakes. Moreover, I could enable everyone to play.»

To be also highlighted that the Centre Sportif du Bois-des-Freres has welcome a group of the TSR, led by the journalist Cedric Moret. The report is dedicated to the evolution of Tchoukball and its shooting took place during the afternoon. It will be broadcasted during the TeleJournal de 12.45pm on Sunday 18 December.

The program if the 3rd day the Tchoukball Geneva Indoors promises to be generous, to say the least. In addition to the exciting finals of each of the 3 tournaments of the Nations Cup (Women, M18 and Men), held the Centre Sportif du Bois-des-Freres as from 6pm, the spectators will benefit from the Open Tournament, gathering a total of no less than 27 teams, from 5 countries (Spain, France, Italy, Switzerland and Czech Republic). These matches will start on Sunday at 10am, both at Queue d'Arve and Centre Sportif du Bois-des-Freres, where winners will receive their prize by 5pm.

THE CHALLENGE OF THE LIVE STREAMING OF STÉPHANE

«Demand is increasingly important.» Stéphane Bruhin, a member of the organizing committee, but in charge of all the production of the images broadcast live on the occasion of the Tchoukball Geneva Indoors, saw the tournament at 200 km / h and insisted On the importance to give to the direct. Sometimes at Bois-des-Frères, sometimes at La Queue d'Arve, the organizer remembers the first images broadcast live by Eurosport 2 at the world championships of beach-tchoukball in Geneva. «It's a good memory as I hope to have others in a few years looking at the ones we've been delivering for a year and we're looking to improve with each edition.»

The ability to easily and freely put on You Tube and Facebook live images of events showed the (right) way to follow. Stéphane Bruhin has set out to offer a maximum service after the first stages in the final phase of the 2015 vintage. «The permanent challenge is to offer the image as a whole in order to allow those connecting to it to understand the game. You also need to look after the environment's details. In the near future, we would like to own a surface with the only brands related to our sport. But this requires an investment of several tens of thousands of francs. In Tchoukball, the difficulty is also due to the instantaneous many changes of direction. Since there is not a goal for a team, you have to be careful and constantly anticipate.»

For the 2016 edition, Stéphane Bruhin, in agreement with the other members of the organizing committee, put the little dishes in the big ones to put forward the Tchoukball. A mandate entrusted to a production company should even make it possible to carry out montages in order to capitalize the recordings for the Tchoukball. Saturday, no less than four cameras (3 fixed and one mobile) will be in action at Bois-des-Frères during the final phase of the Nations Cup and the installation of a board will allow the use of slow motion.
